

MAYOR TO FORCE GUDEHUS IN JOB

Three Vares Supporters to Be Named to Recreation Board

WANTS ORDERS OBEYED

New Appointees Will Replace Those Whose Resignations Were Demanded

Three Vares supporters will be appointed members of the Board of Recreation, it is asserted, to place Edward R. Gudehus, Senator Vares's secretary, in a $3000 job as superintendent of playgrounds.

Unless the three members of the Board of Recreation, whose resignations have been demanded by Mayor Smith, act immediately, they will be summarily dismissed and their places filled by persons willing to carry out the Mayor's orders.

The three independents, have retained counsel and will make a legal battle against removal.

The Mayor has taken the stand that he does not want any one on the Board of Recreation not in sympathy with his desires so far as appointments are concerned. He today expects to receive the resignation of Miss Sophia L. Ross, Ernest L. Tustin and the Rev. Dr. Henry Berkowitz.

Stecher to Remain

He will make no move to oust William A. Stecher, the fourth member of the board, who also opposed Gudehus, but it is understood that if the other three resign, Stecher's resignation will also be sent to the Mayor.

Just as soon as the members opposed to the appointment of Senator Vares's private secretary send in their resignations or are notified of their dismissal the Mayor will name new members to fill their places who can be counted upon not to go counter to his wishes relative to a political appointment.

At City Hall today it was freely predicted that the new Board of Recreation will be composed of friends of Senator Vares and of Mayor Smith. The new members will be chosen with a view to harmonizing their views with those of Robert Smith, James A. Hamilton and E. J. Lafferty the three Vares members of the present board.

The stand taken by Director Krusen, of Health and Charities, that as an ex-officio member of the board he has no standing in vote, is likely to prevent the Mayor, who also is an ex-officio member, from attempting to organize and vote in the new board.

Often Excessive Vote

Mayor Smith exercises his right as an ex-officio member of a number of boards and commissions to vote on questions and it is asserted that if he chose to do so, he could demand a vote in the Board of Recreation.

A number of prominent social and educational workers friendly to the Mayor and the Vares were freely bruited about today, but the absence of any definite statement from the Mayor left the whole question open to conjecture.

TWO BOYS KILLED

One Run Over by Wagon and Other Hit by Locomotive

Two boys were killed last night in accidents in the northeastern section of the city. George Kampa, five years old, of 2413 Salmon street, and Joseph Walker, thirteen years old, of 1815 Cottage street, Frankford, were the victims.

Kampa had been stealing a ride on a wagon and at Richmond and Westmoreland streets crossed off the wheels passed over the child, crushing him so badly he died after his arrival at Frankford Hospital.

Walker was crossing the trestle on the Bustleton spur of the Pennsylvania Railroad when he was struck by a locomotive and thrown into the air, falling into the creek. The train crew rushed to his assistance, but the youngster had been killed instantly.

FIRE IN SYNAGOGUE

Comes Immediately After Blaze in House Across Street

A slight fire today in the cellar of a tenement at 239 Bainbridge street, was no sooner extinguished than another was discovered across the street, in a synagogue.

The first fire was discovered by one of the seven families occupying the house, and was put out easily.

Stopping coal for beereries, the statement declares, will make miners more efficient, as they will not get drunk, and also will relieve coal for "necessary industries." The statement also says the wives of miners are urging their husbands to increase coal production.

Take Tests for Patrolmen

Sixty-four persons today took the Civil Service tests for the position of patrolmen. So many vacancies exist on the force at the present time that appointments will be made just as soon as the results of the examination are made public.

TRAIN KILLS SHIPWORKER

Thousands See Man Ground to Pieces at Hog Island

More than a thousand shipworkers saw an unidentified man ground to pieces by a train on the old Philadelphia and Reading Railway, near the Ninety-fourth street entrance to Hog Island, this morning.

The man evidently was a shipworker. He wore an E. F. C. badge, No. 212, and attempted to run across the tracks ahead of the train, which was bound for the Westinghouse works at Esplanade.

An effort is being made to establish his identity through the badge he wore. He was about thirty-eight years old.

FIVE PHILADELPHIANS ON CASUALTY LISTS

Corporal Killed in Action. Three Severely Wounded. One Prisoner

Five Philadelphians and an Ardmore man are mentioned in General Pershing's casualty list from France, announced by the War Department today.

One local youth was killed in action, three were wounded severely, and one was taken prisoner. The Ardmore man died of disease. The list follows:

Killed in Action

CORPORAL W. M. SALVADOR, 1243 South Fifty-third street.

Severely Wounded in Action

SERGEANT JOSEPH HIBBERT, 6240 Reedland street.

CORPORAL HARRY M. HALL, 5114 Baltimore avenue.

LUIGI MEZZANOTTE, 185 West Logan street.

Prisoner

EFFIM LEHUKY, 936 North Franklin street.

Died of Disease

N. FICCOLI, Ardmore, Pa.

Corporal Salvador was, perhaps, the youngest non-commissioned officer in the army. He was only seventeen years old, and enlisted last July. His mother, Mrs. William M. Salvador, broke down upon learning of his death.

Salvador, whose father is chief freight clerk of the Pennsylvania Railroad in this city, was last home on Good Friday, when he was given a forty-eight-hour furlough.

Private Lehukey, now reported a prisoner, was reported killed in action a year ago. The War Department announced today this report was erroneous. Lehukey was a boarder at the Franklin street address, and was formerly a coal miner.

Sergeant Hibbert is twenty-five years old, and was a machinist before enlisting. His mother, Mrs. Joanne Hibbert, had been spending a vacation in the Blue Ridge Mountains, but came last Monday, having a premonition "something was wrong." Hibbert's father died May 27, but the soldier has not yet been informed of his death. Hibbert recently wrote his mother and offered to wager ten francs that the war would be over in a year.

Corporal Hall is the son of Mrs. Isabelle Hall, a widow. He is a graduate of Girard College.

BELIEVED BOYS SPIES

Museum Clerk Took No Chances and Notified Washington

Spies are in Philadelphia, seeking valuable information.

Such was the message that a clerk in the Commercial Museum sent to the Department of Justice at Washington.

Two expert investigators were sent here immediately, but learned today that their efforts were fruitless. After following several clues they learned that the spies in question were nothing more dangerous than three high school boys.

It appears that the clerk at the information bureau of the museum was only recently appointed to the position. She did not know that high school students had the privilege of asking questions. The boys contemplated starting a small laboratory in their homes. They asked the clerk questions concerning the making of bombs and explosives, and had hardly left the place before the message was flashed to Washington.

NOBRE IS INDICTED ON LIBEL CHARGES

Grand Jury Finds Two Bills Against District Surveyor After Vares Testify

Two true bills of indictment, one charging libel and the other stating and transmitting libelous statements to a reporter for publication in newspaper, were found today by the July Grand Jury against John M. Nobre, district surveyor.

The indictments against Nobre are the result of statements he made concerning work done by Senator Vares on League Island Park, for which the contractor made a claim against the city for $150,000. The alleged libelous statements were made before Councils Finance Committee last spring, when Senator Vares was presenting his claim, and were to the effect that payment already had been made for the work.

Senator Vares, his brother, Congressman Vares, Attorney General Brown, Chairman Gaffney, of Councils Finance Committee, and several other witnesses appeared before the grand inquest to testify. Not all were examined, however, as the jurists thought a sufficient case was established after calling the Vares, Mr. Brown and Mr. Gaffney.

The identification of the motorcyclist struck and killed by a truck last night at Thirty-third and Clifton streets may have been achieved this morning by Mrs. Andrew Miller, 3001 Stiles street, who reported her husband missing all night and whose description of him tallies with that of the dead man.

The dead motorcyclist was a man of about twenty-five, dressed in rough working clothes. His death occurred on the way to the Lankenau Hospital. Mrs. Miller will visit the Morgue this morning to identify the body.

SAY, MR. DANIELS!

Is It Ethical for Yeogirls to Carry Umbrellas?

Oh, say, Mr. Daniels— We saw a nice, plump yeogirl walking down Chestnut street today, but she carried an umbrella.

And we yeoboys get all wet and everything because we aren't allowed to carry 'em. Just this morning our new cap got all soggy.

And say, Mr. Daniels— Yesterday we saw a yeogirl stop at Thirteenth and Chestnut and powder her nose, right where everybody could see her.

Had she a right to do that? What's the navy comin' to, Mr. Daniels?

GETS INSURANCE POST

Charles N. Rambo Appointed to R. R. Fire Protection Section

Charles N. Rambo, superintendent and secretary of the Mutual Fire, Marine and Inland Insurance Company, has been appointed manager of a new insurance and fire-protection section of the railroad administration. He will resign from his present post.

It will be the general policy of the railroad administration, said an announcement, "to do away with the fire insurance policies heretofore carried and to have the Government itself stand directly responsible to the railroads for fire losses of property in Government possession."

Inspectors will be provided to enforce regulations for reduction of fire losses to a minimum, and an advisory committee of insurance experts will be named.
